2024-2025 About the Shows

as of April 5, 2024. Visit theatreanddance.wayne.edu/onstage for more information.

I Hate Hamlet by Paul Rudnick (Oct 4-12)

Follow struggling actor Andrew Rally as he navigates his conflicting emotions towards Shakespeare's iconic Hamlet, while being haunted by the ghost of John Barrymore. This play is a witty and entertaining exploration of art, ambition, and the supernatural, and promises an unforgettable performance.

Into the Woods Music and Lyrics by Stephen Sondheim & Book by James Lapine (Nov 1-10)

Into the Woods is a musical masterpiece that weaves together beloved fairy tales. Stephen Sondheim's enchanting score and James Lapine's clever script take audiences into a magical forest where iconic characters confront their desires and face the consequences of their wishes

For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide / When the Rainbow is Enuf by Ntozoke Shange (Nov 22-Dec 8)

Through dance, music, and poetry, seven Black women defy hardship, weaving tales of love and self-discovery. Sisterhood illuminates their path, igniting their spirit and revealing their inner radiance. A vibrant tapestry of resilience, their fight for joy becomes a celebration of survival.

December Dance Concert (Dec 6-8)

Come witness the collective works of students, faculty, and guest artists this fall on the STAGE at the Hilberry Gateway in the annual December Dance Concert. This concert is suitable for the entire family, and features an array of dance styles and music to be enjoyed.

Tartuffe by Molière, translated into English verse by Richard Wilbur (Jan 31-Feb 9, 2025)

Molière's Tartuffe is a timeless comedic masterpiece that satirizes religious hypocrisy. Follow the hilarious schemes of Orgon's family as they unveil the deceit of Tartuffe, an imposter cloaked in false piety. With witty humor and sharp critique, this play explores themes of hypocrisy and blind faith, delivering a timeless and entertaining satire.

The Prom Music by Matthew Sklar, Lyrics by Chad Beguelin, and a Book by Bob Martin and Beguelin (Mar 28-April 6, 2025)

The Prom is a dazzling Broadway sensation that combines humor, heart, and show-stopping performances. When a group of self-absorbed Broadway stars discovers a small town's prom controversy, they rush to help in order to restore their reputations. This high-energy musical, fueled by catchy tunes and poignant moments, navigates themes of love and acceptance.

Emilia by Morgan Llyod Malcolm (Apr 11-19, 2025)

Three women star as one in this powerful and inspiring play that brings to life the untold story of Emilia Bassano, a brilliant poet and feminist trailblazer from the Elizabethan era. With captivating storytelling, the play explores themes of identity, equality, and the enduring strength of women. A must-see theatrical experience with profound contemporary relevance.

Spring Dance Concert (Apr 18-19, 2025)

End the academic year at Wayne State University by taking in the 96th annual Spring Dance Concert. This event will feature works created and curated by students, faculty, and guest artists spanning an array of dance styles suitable for the entire family to witness and be inspired by.
